What will you see today?

- A short scene based on real-life situations in school
- A meeting between two teachers – one exhausted, the other supportive
- An example of the method "Teachers Helping Teachers" from Jane Nelsen's Positive Discipline
- An opportunity interaction and reflection

Things to consider during the presentation:

- How do we react when we feel powerless in front of a class?
- Do we seek support or isolate ourselves?
- What would happen if teachers stopped competing and started helping each other?
- What is the power of a well-timed, thoughtful question?
